SUPPORTING DOCUMENTATION

The Accrediting Committee will request five (5) review reports, two (2) which must be narratives, from the reports listed on the application. If applicant has not done any narrative reviews, then the committee will request ten (10) form reviews.

Demonstration Review Report

Submit three (3) copies of one demonstration report. The review report shall be in narrative form, have as its subject an appraisal complying with the Uniform Standards of Professional Appraisal Practice, as promulgated by the Appraisal Standards Board, reported in a format which uses at least two of the three approaches to value, and be accompanied by that appraisal. The appraisal client shall provide a written release of the appraisal restricting its use to peer review. A passing demonstration report qualifies for a two-year period from the date of approval. If you do not become Accredited within that two-year period, another demonstration report must be submitted. This will be retained as a confidential file until you have attained your designation. A 75% grade is necessary for your submitted demonstration report in order to clear you to qualify for the remainder of the Accreditation process. As the name implies, a demonstration report should fully demonstrate the applicant's ability, in accordance with the core courses required by the ASFMRA for Accreditation. A good quality work product may or may not be sufficient to meet the required standards. Please invest the time and effort necessary into your demonstration report to insure that it meets the required standards prior to submission.

All RPRA applicants are to submit a demonstration report with the application for initial grading. If the demonstration report does not pass the first review, the applicant will be required to pay a re-grade fee of $115 and have one opportunity to correct the deficiencies. If the demonstration report does not pass on the second submission, the applicant will not be allowed to reapply until the next cycle and will be subject to the requirements of the next cycle. Another application fee will also be required at that time.

AGREEMENT - I hereby irrevocably waive any claim or right of action at law or in equity that I may have at any time hereafter against the American Society of Farm Managers and Rural Appraisers, its officers, council, committee members, or its other officials, either as a group or as individuals, for any official act in connection with the business of said Society and particularly as to its or their acts in conferring or failing to confer the title of "Real Property Review Appraiser", or in disciplining me as a member and as a holder of said title.

It is agreed that any certificate, emblem, or other evidence of said title issued to me shall at all times remain the property of the American Society of Farm Managers and Rural Appraisers and shall be returned to it upon demand if and when requested for any reason whatsoever. It is agreed that I will make no use, public or otherwise, of said title if it is revoked and terminated by said Society.

Has anyone ever made a claim against you, either by legal proceeding or otherwise, based upon, or which could have been based upon, fraud, professional negligence, malfeasance, or theft? Yes No If yes, please attach a separate sheet detailing the circumstances.

Plagiarism Policy

Plagiarism of any form within a demonstration appraisal report will not be tolerated and is strictly prohibited by the ASFMRA. Broadly, plagiarism is claiming or implying original authorship of material, or incorporating material from another's written or creative material, in whole or in part, into your own document without adequate acknowledgment and reference. Plagiarism differs from forgery, which deals with the authenticity of the writing or some specific object, as plagiarism focuses on the issue of false attribution. Plagiarism is stealing someone else's ideas and presenting them as your own. While patterning a general format is generally acceptable, copying narrative discussion without properly citing the source clearly constitutes plagiarism. If it is determined that an Applicant has plagiarized all or part of a demonstration appraisal report it will serve as grounds for rejecting the report and possibly the entire application, at the discretion of the Appraisal Education and Accreditation Committee of the ASFMRA. Such violation may also be reported to the Ethics Committee for further investigation if warranted.

In addition, all applicants should understand the policy regarding the comprehensive exam as summarized below.

In the event that the comprehensive exam is not passed on the first attempt, the examinee will be allowed one opportunity to retake the exam, under the direction of the Appraisal Education and Accreditation Committee. As approved by the ASFMRA Executive Council, if the exam is not passed the second time, the examinee will be required to retake A304, (Integrated Approaches to Value), prior to being allowed to retake the exam for a third time. If the exam is not passed the third time, the applicant will not be allowed to reapply until the next cycle and will be subject to the requirements of the next cycle. Another examination fee will be required for the third exam. An examination fee of $350 will be required for all exam retakes.
