RE: SOLDERING ACTIVITIES
By: Reid Bingham, 7 minutes ago

Hey Everyone When we taught soldering at the Makerspace we used a custom PCB we designed so kids can solder a simple color changing LED night light. We found it was cheaper price per board than other comparable kits (like the Lux Spectralis ...

RE: DESIGN/FAB FIRMS FOR FLEXIBLE MAKING/TINKERING/DESIGN...
By: Andrea Hart, 4 days ago

Hi Eric. Site is one of the few groups we had on our list so far, actually because of Our CoP seeks to develop a wider community of people interested in all aspects of creating and running Making and Tinkering spaces within a museum. We're offering a chance to connect with others experienced in this area, as well as those just beginning, in order to learn from each other and broaden the conversation. Our conversations will range from the philosophical ideals to the practical realities, and be geared towards supporting each member and the work they do at their individual institution.
