LILY GOODMAN NAMED 2022 RECIPIENT OF
THE BACHRACH FAMILY SCHOLARSHIP FOR EXCELLENCE IN HEALTHCARE ADMINISTRATION

WASHINGTON, DC, May 16, 2022 – Lily Goodman, a student in the MHA program at the University of Miami, has been named the 2022 recipient of the Bachrach Family Scholarship for Excellence in Healthcare Administration.

The Bachrach Family Scholarship for Excellence in Healthcare Administration was established to create an endowed scholarship with the intent of creating a durable legacy to the education of students in areas and at institutions that contributed to the success of David and Linda Bachrach. The scholarship is available to students enrolled 'full-time' in a CAHME accredited residential graduate program in healthcare administration during their second year of the program of study.

"AUPHA is honored to administer the Bachrach Scholarship. This year our committee reviewed another sizeable group of deserving and qualified applicants for the Bachrach Scholarship," said R. Brooke Hollis, MBA, Professor of Practice, Sloan Program in Health Administration and Cornell Institute for Healthy Futures. "While it is always difficult to choose just one, the committee felt that Lily Goodman with her personal experiences as a CNA, and the additional perspectives gained in serving in the military, coupled with her academic success, her leadership and volunteer work made her a great choice for this year's Bachrach Scholar."

"I cannot express enough gratitude to the Bachrach family for proving the scholarship, and AUPHA for selecting me as the 2022 recipient. My late father believed the only way to be truly successful was to find the things in life that you are passionate about," said Ms. Goodman. "A career in Healthcare Administration is what does just that for me. With the assistance of the Bachrach scholarship, I am better able to gain knowledge in graduate studies and engage in experiences that I wouldn't have been able to otherwise. Throughout my career, I plan to optimize the patient experience, reduce the cost and stress of patient care, and increase workplace diversity to produce quality care like never before."
