

Dear Valued Member,

March is a time to celebrate progress, recognise leadership and reflect on the impact of women shaping our world. As we mark International Women’s Day, we honour the resilience, innovation and influence of women within the investment industry who are shaping the future of finance. We are proud to once again collaborate with the Johannesburg Stock Exchange, Botswana Stock Exchange, Namibia Securities Exchange, Malawi Stock Exchange, Lusaka Securities Exchange and the Zimbabwe Stock Exchange during the week of 8 March in support of the Ring the Bell for Gender Equality initiative under this year’s theme, “Give to Gain”, reinforcing our shared commitment to advancing gender equality in capital markets.

This month’s programme also brings together timely conversations and critical insights — from a thought-provoking discussion exploring geopolitical and market dynamics shaping the outlook for Africa, to an educational panel examining how private markets can deliver both meaningful social and financial impact. Together, these engagements reflect our continued commitment to knowledge-sharing, meaningful dialogue and driving sustainable progress.

NEWS AND UPDATES

Geopolitics and Markets: Risks, Realities and the Road Ahead for Africa

Africa is increasingly central to global geopolitics, shaped by shifting power dynamics, strategic competition, infrastructure development, and the growing importance of critical minerals. This webinar examines how global actors such as the United States and multilateral platforms like the G20 are influencing Africa’s security, economic prospects, and market outlook.

Join political economist Ronak Gopaldas and Thato Mashigo, CFA, President of CFA Society South Africa as they explore Africa’s strategic positioning and the geopolitical forces shaping Africa’s economic future.
