

Senior Investment Analyst — Regina, SK | Temporary Full-Time (2-year term)

About Möbius Möbius Benefit Administrators provides administrative services to pension and disability plans, supporting Boards and plan sponsors with investment oversight, policy development, and strategic advisory. Our work directly shapes the financial security of plan beneficiaries, and yours will too.

The Opportunity: We're seeking a Senior Investment Analyst to play a key role in shaping and executing investment strategies across multiple pension and disability plans. You'll work at the intersection of capital markets, portfolio strategy, and governance, with a strong focus on asset liability management, investment research, and external manager oversight. In this role you'll provide insights and recommendations to support sustainable plan outcomes within defined risk parameters.

What We're Looking For

- Strong knowledge of capital markets, asset classes, and investment strategies
- Experience with pension fund investing, asset liability management, or institutional portfolios
- Proven ability to evaluate and monitor external investment managers
- Strong understanding of and ability to apply risk management principles
- Clear, confident communicator, comfortable presenting to Boards and senior stakeholders
- Bachelor's degree in Finance, Economics, or related field; CFA designation (or progress toward) strongly preferred
- Ten year's experience in financial management, capital markets, securities analysis and portfolio management.

What You'll Gain

- Direct influence over long-term investment strategy across complex, multi-plan portfolios
- Regular interaction with Boards and senior decision-makers
- A collaborative team that values accountability and continuous improvement
