

Chris Girand, CFA, is a value investor who focuses on the Canadian oil & gas industry and distressed debt. Chris was awarded the charter in 2012 and has been teaching CFA review classes for 15 years. He is a graduate of the University of Texas at Austin and is an adjunct professor of finance at UCSD specializing in accounting and finance topics. He enjoys playing the guitar, sailing, and surfing. Chris resides in Encinitas, California with his wife and daughter.