

Construction Financial Management Association

Puget Sound (Seattle) and South Sound (Tacoma)

Chapters of the Construction Financial Management Association (CFMA) are local non-profit organizations dedicated to being the communications leader and premier source of education and information for those aspects of financial management unique to the construction industry. Our local chapters consist of more than 200 individual members representing approximately 150 different companies in the Puget Sound region, including: construction companies, banks, insurance and surety bonding companies, accounting software, suppliers to the construction industry and CPA's.

Our two CFMA chapters sponsor an annual scholarship program aimed at recognizing and rewarding local college students who have demonstrated outstanding academic
