Submission Guidelines

There will be (3-4) 50-minute breakout sessions that will immediately follow the keynote speaker. These sessions are open to all event attendees. Each presentation is to be offered twice with an anticipated attendee count of 75-100 at each session.

The intent of the break-out sessions is to present current and/or foreseeable future CRE issues and how they are being addressed with collaborative, creative and innovative ways. To maintain the integrity of our educational program, presenters are advised to avoid using the session as a platform for the promotion of the products and services. Presentations that share ideas and highlight actual projects that include the client experience where successes and lessons learned are most popular.
