SPRING 2023

MESSAGE FROM THE CHAIR

Dear Members of the CoreNet Global Singapore Chapter

I am delighted to address you as the Chairperson of the CoreNet Global Singapore Chapter for the year 2023. It is an honor to serve in this role and I am excited about the opportunities that this year brings. As we commence this new chapter year, I wish to express my gratitude to our outgoing board members for their invaluable contributions and extend a warm welcome to our new board members. Together, we will take the Singapore chapter even higher.

Before we delve into the future, I would like to take a moment to reflect on the remarkable successes we achieved despite the challenges posed by the COVID-19 pandemic. Our virtual and in-person events were well-received, and we maintained our position as a leading voice in the corporate real estate industry. Additionally, we were proud to host the CoreNet Global APAC Summit from 14th to 16th March 2023, an event that provided a platform for us to share our unique perspectives on corporate real estate and showcase our beautiful city to the world. A total of 815 international delegates attended the event. I am pleased to announce that our membership numbers are growing at an unprecedented rate.

We have experienced a 70% growth in membership, adding 127 new members to our esteemed community, now over 300 members including 70 Young Leaders. Furthermore, we have 143 companies represented, a testament to our commitment to excellence in the corporate real estate industry. It is a record year for our chapter, and I am confident that this trend shall continue throughout the year. Our success is a result of our members' dedication to making our events relevant and meaningful to their professional growth.

We shall continue to focus on meeting the needs of our members by exploring new ways to connect and engage with them, through innovative events, educational opportunities, and networking sessions. As always, your participation and contributions are invaluable to the success of our organization, and we welcome your involvement in our chapter activities.

Thank you and I look forward to connecting and meeting you in person at the next event!

As part of the CoreNet Events Team, I am thrilled to be supporting the team's exciting Programme this year. I look forward to sharing experiences and knowledge to move the industry forward and contribute to the community here in Singapore.

At Gensler, we are guided by our mission to create a better world through the power of design and believe that our people are the source of our strength. Although the pandemic has presented new challenges, the design industry has proven its resilience and adaptability. Looking ahead, I see three key challenges that the industry will face: balancing the physical and virtual environments, supporting mental health and wellbeing, and developing design solutions that enhance sustainability. In collaboration with my team, I am passionate about providing strategic solutions that respect and advance design excellence, overcoming any obstacles in our way.

I look forward to meeting you at CoreNet Singapore's next event, where we can exchange ideas and discover new ways to elevate the design industry together!

SHOW & TELL @CUSHMAN & WAKEFIELD – 18 January 2023
How did Cushman & Wakefield arrive at the decision to invest in building a "destination office" for the workplace experience their employees and clients wanted? They asked their business leaders the 3 biggest questions being asked in the Corporate Real Estate Industry today – how work is changing, where their people will live and work, and what are the implications for their Real Estate. C&W recognised that offices are no longer an obligation, but a destination for their people. They brought together location, workplace, and portfolio strategy to create inspiring environments to foster an engaged and productive workforce across their Total Workplace ecosystem. Members End Users were invited to a tour around C&W's CapitaSpring office to walk through and experience the space, and understand what went on behind the scenes and the decisions that led up to their Destination Office.

Special thanks to our "sub-sub comm team" - Haworth / Vanessa Chiam, JLL / Kenneth Teo and Insights / Anna Williams for your behind the scenes support and contributions.

I am Jean Baptiste Calemard (JB), working for Sodexo Asia for last 13 years from which 5 were based out of Singapore.

I am Regional Accounts Director, overseeing FM contracts for strategic clients across Asia Pacific and Middle East region. This cover offices, manufacturing, and R&D sites, for which Sodexo is offering full IFM services such as food, technical services, cleaning, uniforms, security etc.

I am married and a proud dad of two lovely children, 2 and 4 years old. Beside my family time, I practice sport daily (running – tennis – golf) and have recently ran the Standard Charter Marathon. I love setting myself new objectives and ensuring I always try to get outside of my comfort zone. I am very pleased having joined the L&D committee and hope to support the fantastic activities the team has been working over the past years.

Hi, I am Linna Lim (call me Lynn), founder of I.Dezign, a boutique workplace Interior Design firm that specialises in Design & Built environments. Have had this baby for nearly 11 years now, and still counting the good years.

My real career started off as a Sales Exec in a Swiss based company selling office furniture, and was scouted to join an ID firm, which was actually my Client and from there, my love of ID works & sales grew tremendously.
The entrepreneur journey has never been easy, but with determination, passion and perseverance, one will never see failure, only success!! It has been a great learning journey for me, from just doing sales to managing the entire business. Am still learning everyday.

I have 2 young adults, the younger in Uni, while the older has gone out to embrace the working society. This is also a time for me to prep them up with the reality of working life, its never easy, but with the fighting spirit and the willingness to learn, I strongly believe they will both make it out there.

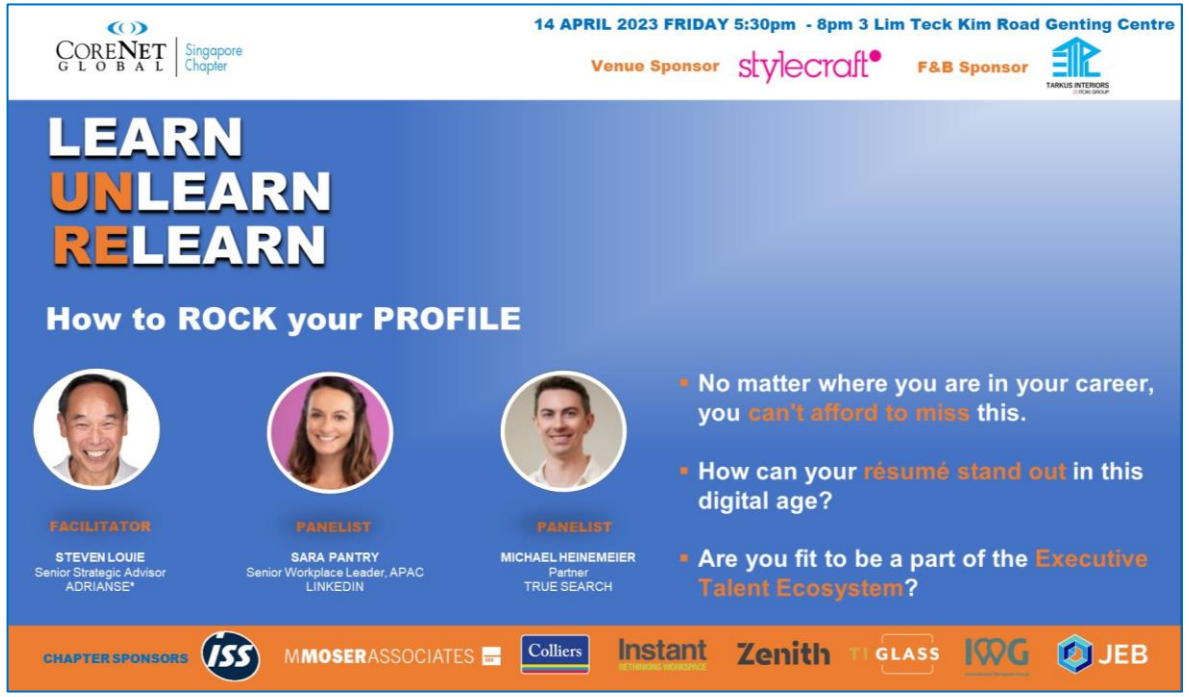

Thus, this is my motivation to join the L&D committee and wish to share my journey with the younger to-be leaders. Everyone is special, they just need someone to guide them. Hope I am able to provide my two-cents worth of support to the L&D team.

We especially appreciated the around the room sharing session where everyone openly shared their thoughts creating a safe-space for networking, learning and improvements. Thank you to all who attended the closing session at IWG's No. 18 whose environmental had a cosy and warmth ambience very apt for the event which was more intimate.

Hybrid Working Case Study

On March 6, ISS officially opened its doors to the new Singapore and APAC Headquarters. The unveiling of the new office brings together the best of workplace design and technology to provide a sustainable and superior workplace experience.

As the workforce transitions out from the pandemic, there is a shift in expectations of workplaces by employees, as they seek for better workplace experience, work life balance, and more remote & hybrid working opportunities. An ISS Pulse survey in April 2022 with 100 real estate and facilities management professionals from global companies shows the importance of providing and improving workplace solutions and offerings, to enable innovation & collaboration, attract employees into the office and enhance a sense of belonging.

The new ISS Singapore Headquarters spans across 11,151 sqft and provides a work base for over 200 employees. The space adopts a Workplace strategy which places people at the center of the workplace design & conceptualization. It enables the organization to make the most of their space, and emphasize its role as a place for collaboration, connection, innovation, and informal meetings, whilst addressing the various needs of different communities and work cultures.

The hybrid present and future is here to stay. As remote and hybrid work are becoming a new normal in office-based environments, a hot-desking system termed the Workplace Experience App, features booking of Places to Work, Places to Meet, wayfinding, F&B services, as well as to raise requests for any issues.

With the refreshed workplace solutions, ISS Singapore hope to look forward to new opportunities, growth, and success, as they unleash the People Potential with better productivity and higher enthusiasm at the new headquarters.

Our Best Year Ever

The Singapore Chapter's focus on relevant and quality events and programming to support members' education and connection to the Corporate Real Estate profession has proven to be of valued resulting in a record membership year. At over 300 members, the Singapore Chapter is at its biggest and best ever.

In 2023 already we have added over 90 new members and have seen record engagement. We are proud to report over 70 Young Leader Members, our most ever, indicating our future is bright at the Singapore Chapter. During the recent Global Summit in Singapore, over 50% of our local membership attended, a new record.

The Neighborhood Group Program was an effective tool to gather towards the last stage gathering restrictions, allowing members to have small group networking nearby their home or work. We are evolving this concept to once per quarter per group for a total of twelve gatherings a year. The North/West group kicked off the new program with a Networking and Karaoke hosted by Chapter Sponsor T1 Glass. If you would like to join a neighborhood Group, North/West, East, or Central, please scan QR code below.

Our twice yearly New Member Mixer was held in March at IWG Signature at Asia Square with over 40 new members in attendance. If you are a new member and want to learn more about getting involved in events or serving on committees, please do reach out to the Chapter email. We also recommend Neighborhood Groups, it's the best way to connect with members in between events.

CORPORATE REAL ESTATE WEEK * 2023

#CREWeek23
#WorkingIt

ATLANTA, GA (January 5, 2023) — CoreNet Global, the global association for corporate real estate professionals, today announces the launch of Corporate Real Estate Week, to be held April 17-21, 2023.

Corporate Real Estate Week celebrates the strategic role that the corporate real estate (CRE) profession plays within the corporate infrastructure and inform the global business community about how the work of corporate real estate professionals shapes the workplace, employee wellness and safety, the implementation of new technologies for the built environment, and even the interplay of urban planning and corporate site location decisions.

"Corporate real estate professionals have for many years predicted and implemented trends that have dramatically improved the workplace and corporate success," said Angela Cain, CEO of CoreNet Global. "The past few years have forced a reckoning with remote and distributed work that corporate real estate professionals were well prepared for, and it will be up to our profession to chart the way forward as companies determine the best solutions for their situation. Corporate Real Estate Week is both an acknowledgement of those contributions and an opportunity to think strategically about the future of work."

Throughout the week, CoreNet Global will be releasing studies and data that demonstrate the contributions of corporate real estate professionals. Look for profiles of corporate real estate professionals on social media, on chapter websites, and in the media. In addition, CoreNet Global chapters around the globe will have unique in-person and/or virtual programming and content dedicated to a various components of the profession such as diversity, equity, and inclusion; compensation of CRE professionals; sustainability; unique and innovative workplaces; and more.

Zoom Out: The Power of Perspective | EARLY BIRD RATES EXPIRE 15 MAY 2023

We have been conditioned throughout our lives to think that each question or problem has one definitive answer. However, complex challenges rarely come with a singular, simple solution and require broader thinking. While uncertainty can be seen as a threat or risk, embracing the discomfort that uncertainty brings is the new norm, and as leaders, we are expected to lean into it. This ability to navigate change, disruption, and uncertainty is paramount in a world that has become increasingly turbulent and volatile.

Today's issues have many interdependent elements that change in unpredictable ways and lead to unforeseen outcomes. While it can be tempting to break a challenge into various components to "solve," this assumes that one has greater control over the problem at hand. It can also narrow your view and obscure your perspective. "Zooming out" can help leaders shine a light on assumptions that may not be visible from the trenches; it has the ability to provide a broader perspective.

An elevated vantage point can enable a view of larger patterns and inter-dependencies leading to adaptation, re-calibration, and new solutions. "Zooming out" can equip corporate real estate professionals with the perspective, knowledge, and skills needed to emerge as thoughtful leaders who may not have a single answer but know how to ask the right questions.
