

Christmas Party 2013
Tuesday 10 December, Corney & Barrow

Just before Christmas, among all other invitations, the CoreNet UK Chapter Christmas Party features strongly. We have had lunches at Bafta, the RAC and in pubs across London. This year the small organising committee of Nick Winter, head of the Programmes Committee, Julia Moore and Jack Buckley decided on a change of timing - from lunchtime to evening.

Accordingly from about 6 o'clock onwards CoreNet members and guests were seen making their way to Ropemaker Street, near Finsbury Circus, to be warmly welcomed in Corney & Barrow's City Point wine bar.

Some 60 members were down to attend - roughly a tenth of our UK membership which has now reached 650. When your reporter left the party at about eight, things were still in full swing. Other Chapter triumphs to celebrate in 2013 is yet another year of great meetings - breakfast briefings and knowledge exchanges on a range of topics of serious interest to all CREs, awards events, a great Summer Party, and a fascinating walk round Piccadilly and Bond Street with Benedict O'Looney. On top of which we are told the UK economy is slowly recovering.

Wishing all of you a very Happy Christmas and a very merry New Year. Here's to an even more successful 2014!
