

Predictions.....

*Because it's all pointless cogitation
In a world prone to spontaneous prevarication
And bouts of irrational recrimination:
Uncertainty is its own motivation....*

*While the tireless toilers of CRE will find voice, and be heard
#workplaceblogs will take flight on the blue bird
For though right now, this distant prospect seems absurd
The blog is the sword, and the weapon the word*

*A great awakening in the world of professional organisation
As those giving the cash realise they're also 100% of the participation, the IP, the energy, the inspiration and the motivation
And they can have it all without registration....*
