

RECREATION AND PARK DISTRICTS

Districts improve our quality of life

California Recreation and Park Districts provide quality programs and activities for millions of Californians

Recreation and Park Districts maintain and operate several regional parks, recreation areas, community centers and over 445,000 acres of parks and open space in California

There are 95 Recreation and Park Districts throughout the state dedicated to programs that promote fitness, arts, culture, and education

Through local collaborations, Recreation and Park Districts are able to provide services for kids, adults, seniors, and community members with developmental and physical disabilities

Recreation and Park Districts support healthy, affordable, physical, and social activities that strengthen community ties
