

Construction Camp
For Girls

LICENSE APPLICATION FORM

Thank you for contacting the Construction Specifications Institute Foundation (CSIF) about CSIF's Construction Camp for Girls (CCG) and for your interest in staging a CSIF-licensed CCG camp ("Camp"). Please carefully read and complete this Application. If CSIF accepts your application, CSIF will provide to you a separate License Agreement to read and sign.

CSIF's mission for CCG is to empower young women to pursue a career in the AECO industry through education, hands-on experiences, confidence-building, and camaraderie.

CCG GOALS:

1. Inspire young women to pursue professional opportunities in the AECO industry and help to diversify and strengthen the AECO workforce.
2. Encourage CSI chapters and members to promote and participate in your Camp program and other AECO workforce development initiatives.
3. Partner with other AECO industry organizations and career technical schools to promote your Camp to their members, students, and other stakeholders.
4. Appeal to state and federal legislators to support your Camp program and other AECO industry workforce development initiatives.
5. Encourage a diverse, equal, and inclusive AECO industry.

CAMP OBJECTIVES:

1. Overview various trades in the AECO industry to emphasize the myriad roles and possibilities for employment.
2. Introduce young women to the knowledge and skills required in these various professions.
3. Organize field trips to AECO-related businesses and field offices to provide a first-hand look at various construction roles and responsibilities.
4. Develop appropriately challenging activities that promote self-confidence and self-esteem through hands-on learning, problem-solving, communication and teamwork.
5. Discuss the importance of a diverse workforce in the AECO industry and emphasize there is a place for anyone who desires to be a part of it.
