

Christopher Delgado*, FCSI

"In recognition of your service to the Institute you are advanced to Fellowship in the Institute this 21st day of June, 1978"
San Antonio, Texas

CHRISTOPHER G. DELGADO was born in 1934, in Fowler, California. After graduating from Washington High School, he joined the Navy, and served on an aircraft carrier in the Philippine Sea.

Delgado was a self-taught architect who worked in both the private and public sectors. He was a specification writer for Barovetto, Carissimi, Rohrer of Sacramento, California. He oversaw the design and construction of the Sacramento Convention Center Complex and the historical renovation of the Crocker Art Gallery, and he established the A&E Department at the UC Davis Medical Center.

As a result of his efforts, the City of Sacramento began requiring all firms dealing with the city to follow CSI formats.

Chris was involved in CSI region and Institute as an education liaison, and actively promoted the use of CSI specifications through his introduction of courses and seminars on specification writing.

In addition to chapter and region awards, he received a special award from CSI for his development of the Construction Data System

He was a respected member of AIA, and an Emeritus member of the Association of University Architects

Chris enjoyed running marathons and ultra runs, and he was especially proud of running the Western States 100 mile endurance run in 20.32 hours.

Delgado passed away on 31 January 2021, in Carmichael, California.
