

Warren "Lee" Beil, FCSI

"For your exceptional contribution to CSI at the chapter, region, and Institute levels; for major contributions to the CSI Certification program by helping to develop the Scenario concept of exam question writing, and writing effective "distracter" answers; and for being a beacon of the Las Vegas Chapter, serving as mentor, welcoming committee, CFO and a champion of professional development, you are advanced to Fellowship in the Institute on the 22nd day of June 2007."
Baltimore, Maryland

WARREN "LEE" BEIL was born, raised, and educated in Ohio. Lee is a graduate of Muskingum College, New Concord, Ohio, with a BA Degree in Mathematics. He graduated from college as a math teacher and basketball coach, but industry won the recruiting game. While attending Muskingum, he was a four-year starter for the basketball team and received Honorable Mention All-American honors his senior year.

Lee is a Veteran, having served in the US Army, where he received Post Soldier of the Month honors several times. He received a direct commission, and was honorably discharged as a Second Lieutenant.

Beil is a charter member of the Las Vegas Chapter, and has been a member of the Chapter for 19 years. He has served the Chapter in several capacities including FY 1994 President. Lee was the Co-Chair of the inaugural Chapter Golf Tournament, the beginning for funding the scholarship program. He continues to be the facilitator of the Chapter's very popular and well attended program, "The Eleventh Hour Bid" which he wrote, organized and assembled.

Beil also served on two Institute Committees, the Certification Committee and the Manual of Practice Advisory Board. He was a member of the Certification Committee for the first Certified Construction Contract Administrator

Examination and was the leader for converting the Certification exams to a machine gradable format.

Lee considers the CSI Education and Certification programs a very important part of the Institute's objectives. He believes the Certification Program measures one's knowledge and the ability to apply that knowledge in the work place. Beil was the driving force and instrumental for the Chapter to purchase the CSI Education and Curriculum programs for use in the Construction Sciences Program at the Community College of Southern Nevada. He has been a guest instructor for several professional organization and apprenticeship trade schools and a Glazier's Apprenticeship Instructor. Lee has also been the moderator for several very successful Chapter programs involving a panel of distinguished members for various "HOT" construction topics.

Beil is one of the best local well rounded individuals serving the construction industry. He has worked successfully as a Subcontractor, Product Representative, Curtain Wall Consultant, General Contractor's Project Manager, Owner's Representative and Architectural Contract Administrator. His ability to work well with people to provide successful events, programs and projects has long be recognized and admired by his associates.
