THE POWER TO CHANGE

FEBRUARY 10-14 • SHERATON DENVER DOWNTOWN • DENVER, CO

Student Video Contest

Official Rules and Regulations

(1) GOAL OF THE CONTEST

The primary goal of the contest is to enhance general awareness among students of how their institutions' district energy systems and their operators provide a reliable, economic, efficient and environmentally sound means of heating, cooling and powering their campuses. By posting the winning entries on the IDEA website, YouTube page and social media (see "How the Winners Will Be Selected" on the next page), submissions will help to educate the general public about district energy and its role in campus sustainability.

Entrants will create three-minute maximum length videos about their campus energy systems with a central focus on the role of district energy in their institutions' sustainability efforts. Videos may include content that:

- Illustrates how their institution is supporting a sustainable future using its present and/or planned district energy infrastructure;
- Educates other students about the unique attributes and innovations that are part of their campus' district energy system; and/or
- Documents the roles and responsibilities of personnel who operate and maintain these systems.

These guidelines are not restrictive — we are looking for creative entries! Submissions can be serious or humorous, but should be informative, thoughtful and original. Submissions must be submitted during the contest period. IDEA reserves the right to reject any submission that does not conform to the official rules detailed in this document or the Site Usage Agreement as determined by IDEA in its sole discretion. Limit one (1) submission per person during the contest period.
