

Paper Invitation: [Foods] (IF=4.092, Q1) Special Issue

"Food Safety and Behavior Change"

Dear Colleague,

As the Guest Editor of the Special Issue "Food Safety and Behavior Change" in Foods (ISSN 2304-8158, <https://www.mdpi.com/journal/foods>), I would like to invite you to contribute an article or review paper focuses on the recent studies on:

- food safety knowledge, attitudes, and behaviors by stakeholders in primary production, processing, retail, preparation and consumption.
- application and effectiveness of food safety education approaches/interventions
- application of behavior change theories in food safety research.
- role of healthcare providers in delivery of food safety information; implications for patients/consumers.

Please access the detailed Special Issue information at:

Benefits of publishing with Foods:

1. Open access. Open access (unlimited and free access to readers) increases publicity and promotes more frequent citations, as indicated by several studies.
2. High visibility and impact. Foods is indexed by the leading indexing services, like SCIE, PubMed, and Scopus, and has an Impact Factor of 4.092.
3. Rapid publication times combined with thorough peer review. The average whole processing period from submission to publication is about 33 days.

An Article Processing Charge (APC) of CHF 2000 currently applies to all accepted papers. You may be entitled to a discount if you have previously received a discount code or if your institute is participating in the MDPI Institutional Open Access Program (IOAP), for more information see: <http://www.mdpi.com/about/ioap>.

If this is of interest, you are welcome to send a tentative title to the Section Managing Editor Ana-Andreea Cioca (cioca@mdpi.com) for checking the suitability. I believe your contribution will be highly appreciated by our readers.

In the hope that this invitation receives your favorable consideration, we look forward to our collaboration.
