

Industry Participant Requirements & Privileges

Requirements

The International Legal Technology Association (ILTA) is offering legal technologists who are working in or closely with the legal industry but are not employed by a member entity and do not focus primarily on sales, marketing, account management, or business development an opportunity to apply for Industry Participant status.

In order to apply for Industry Participant status, an individual must meet all eligibility requirements:

- Be employed by an organization engaged in the legal industry (that is not an ILTA member entity);
- Share an interest in, and support the goals and core values of, ILTA;
- Hold a role that supports legal operations or technology, or provides advice to individuals working in legal operations or technology;
- Have significant experience and demonstrable expertise in legal technology, operations, practice, or administration;
- Have a history of sharing that expertise with colleagues in consultative, educational, or networking settings; AND
- Share (or commit to sharing) that expertise in ILTA e-groups, webinars, live presentations, local meetings, and other ILTA programming.
