ABOUT ONLINE COMMUNITIES

ILTA Communities offer one of the best peer networking opportunities you can find within the legal community. Online communities are a great way to find people with a common interest or content on a particular topic.

ILTA's communities offer members topic-specific discussion areas, a library of files uploaded by members, blogs attributed to being pertinent to the community, events related to the community, and a group of like-minded individuals.

ONLINE COMMUNITY ACCESS INFORMATION

When an individual becomes an industry participant, they are automatically added to the private online community Industry Participants.

Industry participants may then freely join any of the open communities, submit a request to join any member managed communities, and submit a request to join up to five (5) tier 1 online communities each quarter.
