CONFERENCE AT A GLANCE CMA Exam Prep Session

Concurrent Track - Both days

"Get CMA Part I in the Can - An intensive review that provides results!"

This year the IMA NorthEast Regional Council is offering a two day intensive CMA review course for Part 1 of the CMA exam.

The CMA Exam Prep Session is for the CMA candidate who is almost ready to sit for the exam. This instructor led course will not start at the beginning but will cover some problem areas you may have. Get your questions answered. Practice a couple of those problems that have been giving you trouble since you began your program of preparation. Ask your final questions of the experts. Work on some of those heady questions where just a few more minutes of work will make the difference in passing. The goal of this course is to prepare you to sit and pass Part I within the week of the conference.

Professor Leonard Long, CMA, CFM will be the instructor for both days of this session.

This track runs concurrently with the General Education Sessions track so all breakfast and lunch sessions will be together as well as the morning and afternoon breaks.

Denise Armstrong, CPA - "(Barriers to) Managing a Non-profit Organization, Profitably"

Denise H. Armstrong accepted the position of chief financial officer at Sea Research Foundation, which operates Mystic Aquarium, the Ocean Exploration Center and JASON Learning, in September 2007. In this role, she has assisted in the successful refinance of Mystic Aquarium's long-term and short-term debt. Additionally, she supervised the complete upgrade of the accounting system and the implementation of a new ticketing system at the aquarium. In 2012, Sea Research Foundation's capital campaign reached $18.5 million over two years, a record-breaking fundraising amount for the organization. Armstrong has a strong cash management background, which is extremely useful during the long winter months when the Mystic tourism industry is at its lowest point. She is known for her hard work, business knowledge and leadership skills. Prior to accepting her current position, Armstrong served as chief financial officer for a conglomerate of manufacturing entities, where she was instrumental in dealing with the daily business complexities of both financial and operational issues. Armstrong, a certified public accountant, began her career in public accounting in the audit and consulting division of one of the nation's largest accounting firms. She is an active volunteer for several organizations, including Americares Homefront, a charitable organization that serves low income homeowners. Armstrong graduated as valedictorian of her class at Southern Connecticut State University and resides in Mystic, Conn., with her husband, Alan. She has two adult children, a granddaughter and a grandson who all enjoy the offerings of Mystic Aquarium and the Ocean Exploration Center, home of famed ocean explorer Dr. Robert Ballard.
