EDITOR'S CORNER

This is certainly a crucial period for the TSS. Several important issues are presently at stake, in particular our participation to the "practice"-oriented meeting and the intensification of our Internet activities. Our new President, Julien Bramel, and all other Council members are ready to give the Section the necessary leadership to ensure it will remain one of the most prestigious and most active of all INFORMS subdivisions. But we need the participation of every member! Your participation can take several forms:

Come to the business meetings and share your ideas with other members (the next meeting will take place during the San Antonio INFORMS conference -- see the announcement on this page).

Vote at the elections for new council members, or even better, submit your candidature (elections will take place this Fall -- details at the San Antonio business meeting).

Communicate with the President Julien Bramel (jdb8@columbia.edu) or myself, if you have any

TSS NEWS AND NOTES

News from Members

Julien Bramel is a new father! Her first child, Mia, was born last February. Congratulations to the parents!

Julien Bramel is on leave from Columbia University. For the academic year 2000--01, he will be working for Dash Optimization in New York.

Meeting Notice

The next business meeting of the TSS will be held on Monday November 6, 2000 in Room 8 (San Antonio Marriott Rivercenter, San Antonio) from 6:00pm to 7:00pm.

question or issue regarding our Section.

I would like to conclude this Editor's Corner by expressing my warmest thanks, on behalf of all TSS members, to our Past President Marius Solomon
(msolomon@cba.neu.edu).
Congratulations, Marius,
for the wonderful job you accomplished as President!
