

Connect Across Every Link of the Supply Chain at MinnPack Minneapolis

We're excited to announce that registration for MinnPack is now open. The only packaging event in Minnesota, MinnPack is the only place where you can touch and feel the latest packaging, automation, and labeling equipment used with food and beverage packaging, medical and pharmaceutical packaging, and more.

This October, join leaders across the supply chain, including the booming medtech industry, at MinnPack. While exploring the expo floor, you'll also connect with leaders in manufacturing innovations, biocompatible materials, sensors, robotics, and more.

Use promo code IoPP when you register to claim your free MinnPack expo pass or save 20% on conference passes.
