ISACA Credentials Spotlighthed at ENISA Webinar

Last week, ISACA credentials were featured in an ENISA webinar, “Using the European Cybersecurity Skills Framework to Sustain Cybersecurity Workforce,” which introduced ENISA’s new framework. We are excited ENISA chose to align ISACA’s certifications with the framework. Congratulations to ISACA member Vladlena Benson, who was selected to participate in this initiative and was a featured presenter in the webinar

A link to the presentation is below. Dr. Bensen’s presentation begins at the 57:00-minute mark.

EU Commission Proposes Cyber Security Rules for EU Bodies

<https://www.reuters.com/technology/eu-proposes-cybersecurity-rules-eu-bodies-amid-cyberattack-worries-2022-03-22/>

The European Commission has proposed that EU countries put a framework in place to manage cybersecurity risks at EU institutions. This proposal is part of a larger package of draft rules that would require all EU institutions to identify cybersecurity risks, create improvement plans for their respective cybersecurity postures, conduct assessments, and share information about incidents. The Commission also proposed that an information security regulation be drafted to define a set of minimum standards and rules for all EU institutions.

EU and USA Reach Preliminary Deal on Data Privacy

The EU and USA jointly announced an agreement in principle on a new trans-Atlantic data flow agreement. The deal would allow data about Europeans to be stored on USA soil, calming the concerns of thousands of companies with trans-Atlantic operations facing mounting legal challenges.

- Fact sheets released by the two sides can be found here: USA and EU.
