Spotlight: CSXF Workshop Experience

ISACA CMC held a Cybersecurity Fundamentals workshop in April 2019 with a focus on college students and recent graduates. This was the first time we attempted such a training. It was held at Bowie State University and we are grateful to the Bowie State University Provost for allowing us on the campus on a weekend in April. We also thank board members JP Garvin and Yvonne Kinney who assisted with the training and they along with then President John Shuey also presented an overview of job and ISACA backgrounds to the students at the beginning of the session.

Below is ISACA CMC member Victoria McNair's CSXF Workshop Experience:

My name is Victoria McNair and I am a member of the ISACA CMC Chapter. Recently, I attended the CSXF Cybersecurity Fundamentals Workshop at Bowie State University. I found out about the workshop through my college professor Dr. Andrew Mangle who is also an ISACA member. Overall, the workshop was great, and the instructor did an amazing job presenting the material as well as suggesting some helpful tips for the CSXF exam. I chose to attend the workshop because I'm very interested in working in the Cybersecurity field as a Security Engineer. Obtaining the CSXF certificate will let future employers know that I understand fundamentals of Cybersecurity. I recommend that every member of ISACA (students and professionals) currently in the Cybersecurity field or transitioning to Cybersecurity, attend the workshop and take the exam. – Victoria McNair
