

Dr Appolonia Ilorah (PHD Computer Science and Data Processing)

Bio: Dr Appolonia Ilorah (PHD Computer Science and Data Processing), is a Lecturer in the Department of Computer Science (End-User Unit) lecturing Computerised Accounting among others at TUT Polokwane Campus. She also supervises Master and Doctorate students. She has BCOM Informatics (Information Systems and Financial Management), BCOM Hons Informatics (UNISA) Masters Degree in Business Information Systems, Doctorate degree in Computer Science and Data Processing from Tshwane University of Technology (TUT). Her research interest includes Business Intelligence & Big Data, Smart Learning, Knowledge Management & Sharing and E-Health /Mobile Health. She has authored papers for various academic conferences local and international and has published articles in DHET accredited journals.