Living in SIP Together Weekly

We are back with more amazing offerings from this creative community to keep things interesting during Shelter in Place. As we continue to stay home with our families, pets, and copious amounts of coffee wine, it is the little things that can bring enjoyment to our lives. I hope we all remember to enjoy these little things when we are back in the fast-paced world of live events!

See below for the fun things we are relishing this week:

1. Speaking of wine, have you checked out what our neighbors to the North are doing with their quarantine time? Many of our beloved Napa & Sonoma wineries are offering virtual tastings, intimate webinars with their winemakers, and amazing wine deals! If you want a special evening activity or need to stock up on the most important staple of quarantine, check them out! I've got this virtual tasting from Hall on my list, and I'm refilling my wine fridge with these goodies from Cliff Lede.
2. And in keeping with news from up North – our sister chapter ILEA Napa Sonoma has some great content offerings right now!
3. La Tavola and BBJ are now offering cloth face masks. They've got endless color options and can be branded! If your company is operating right now, this is a great way to support our vendors and show your customers that you are committed to your team's health and safety! It could also be a great offering for clients looking at bringing back meetings in the coming months.
4. Looking forward to your next meal seems to be a universal comfort right now. Hugh Groman's Greenleaf Provisions has you covered with all kinds of options – groceries, local produce, prepared food, and booze!

5. Another option if you are totally over cooking, the Culinary Eye Meal Program menu has a variety of incredible dishes with various pick-up and delivery options. They've even got kids meals for all of you, super parents, also trying to juggle homeschooling and keeping your kiddos occupied without leaving the house, score!
6. Ready for more delicious meals? SF Travel and Visit Oakland are great resources to find out which neighborhood restaurants are still open for takeout and delivery. Got a hankering for Shan Dong noodles or Golden Boy Pizza? Order in and support these local favorites!
7. And lastly, a hilarious depiction of Couples in Quarantine – how is this so accurate??
