

Message to Staff to Alleviate Fear of Wage Loss

I want to ensure all employees that there is no danger of loss of wages during this time. Your recurring pay will continue to be deposited in the financial institution you have on file with the district on our approved pay dates.

As a district, we will continue a work schedule similar to what we have been doing this week. Teachers will continue to develop and support instruction, food service will continue to prepare and provide meals, and all others will have duties assigned as necessary. All employees will have the opportunity to work and complete their contracts in some manner now and/or before the end of the fiscal year June 30.

These NTI days are instructional contract days and serve to help fulfill those contracts. While there has been suggestions made towards districts to adopt a telecommute (work from home) process, not all employees serve in roles that easily allow that transition. Additionally, it would be impossible for us to continue to meet the needs of our students and larger community without our best resource, our phenomenal employees.

As we continue to meet our prime imperative of providing for the safety and well being of our students, staff, and community we will need the help of all our staff. We will continue to provide continuity of instructional and nutritional services as we add additional services, which our students need.

More information is found in the attached letter and further information will follow and will be targeted to those with specific roles.
