Re: Real Property Law Section Legislative Report

Green: Change in status

Red: Newly added

GENERAL LEGISLATIVE BACKGROUND

The Governor and Legislature passed, what is considered by most, the most bi-partisan budget in Michigan history prior to the October 1st deadline. Thanks to the CARES Act, it was relatively painless with not nearly the drastic cuts as originally projects. On Friday, October 2nd, the Michigan Supreme Court ruled the 1945 Emergency Powers rule the Governor was using to issue Executive Orders was unconstitutional, essentially rendering her powerless for the first time since she declared a state of Emergency in March. While DHHS and various other departments can issue certain public health orders, they will not nearly be as effective as the Governor's ability to issue EOs at her sole discretion. The legislature will return the week of October 12th to codify a few of her EOs, but not all of them, the SML has already announced there is no appetite in the Senate for a state-wide mask mandate.
