Fixing Our Fault Lines: Addressing Systemic Vulnerabilities
The 2020 Preparedness Summit is the premier national conference in the field of public health and healthcare preparedness. The largest event of its kind, the 2020 Preparedness Summit will attract nearly 1,900 attendees who work all levels of government (local, state, and federal), emergency management, volunteer organizations, and healthcare coalitions.

This year’s Summit will explore the theme, “Fixing Our Fault Lines: Addressing Systemic Vulnerabilities“, which will focus on methods to identify systemic weaknesses and highlight tools and policies that can empower all communities, and particularly the ones that are most vulnerable, to address those weaknesses and become more resilient.

- Building and sustaining resilient communities
- Effectively using, producing, and disseminating medical countermeasures and non-pharmaceutical interventions
- Ensuring situational awareness to support decision making, data management, and information sharing
- Enhancing the integration of public health, healthcare, and emergency management systems
- Strengthening global health security

The 2020 Preparedness Summit convenes a wide array of partners to participate in the Summit, presents new research findings, shares tools and resources, and provides a variety of opportunities for attendees to learn how to implement model practices that enhance the nation’s capabilities to prepare for, respond to, and recover from disasters and other emergencies.

- 93% intended to share information learned at the Summit with peers and colleagues.
- 90% thought the Summit helped improve their knowledge of current policy areas in public health and healthcare preparedness.

Preparedness Summit is a phenomenal space to share lessons learned, receive feedback and out-of-the-box ideas from colleagues you don’t engage with daily, and stretch yourself to think about things that are explicitly in your daily work.

The Summit provided valuable insight on various topics such as information sharing, medical countermeasures, and overall preparedness topics. The networking with colleagues from other jurisdictions was also very helpful to learn what they are doing in their jurisdictions.

This is a very well-organized event that offers such relevant information on topics we deal with every day! There were many opportunities to network with others.

The Preparedness Summit is great and one of the only venues that allows professionals from the Public Health Preparedness realm to come together to share best practices, lessons learned, new and exciting programs, plans, ideas, procedures, etc.
