

Real People. Real Work. Real Impact.

We're Looking for Real Members in Action

Every day, AMPP members are doing important work—protecting assets, solving problems, and keeping people and infrastructure safe.

And we want to show the world what that work looks like through your eyes.

We're collecting photos and short videos of members at work, including:

- In the field
- In the lab
- On job sites
- In the office
- During inspections, testing, training, or planning

Whether it's a quick snapshot or a short video clip, your submission helps tell the story of your profession.

Why Submit?

- Highlight the work you do and the industry you support
- Help promote the profession to future members and professionals
- Be featured in AMPP marketing and promotional materials
