Social Communities of Interest

Social Communities of Interest (SCI) are based on a common demographic or interest among AMPP members.

These groups allow members to come together with peers under a common interest to build a network, exchange ideas, and further their common needs.

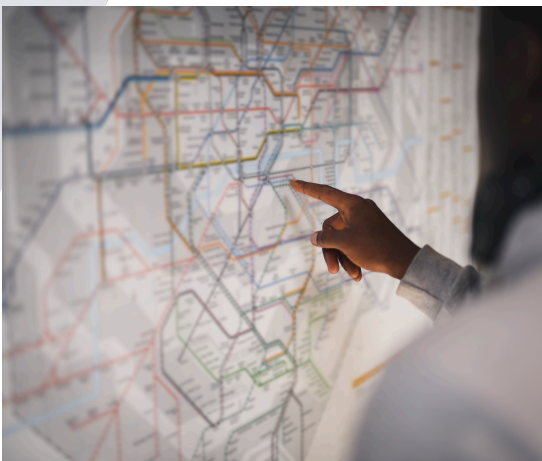

Exclusive to members only

Technical Communities of Interest (TCI)

Technical Communities of Interest (TCI) are for members and non-members who want to connect with others to further a common cause by sharing wisdom, knowledge, information and/or data on a specific technical topic.

TCI's serve to bring industry together for the discussion of the state and needs of industry and to advance AMPP's mission.
