

AACFB

Best Practices Broker™

Ethics Matter

The AACFB offers a certification program that recognizes members who demonstrate their ability to apply the association's Code of Ethics in their daily business practices. Through this process, members show that they can effectively uphold ethical standards and apply them to real-world situations they encounter in their day-to-day operations.

RECOGNITION

Members with the Best Practices Broker certification are recognized on the AACFB website.

STRONG ETHICS

Displaying the Best Practices Broker logo on websites and emails shows a commitment to ethical business practices.

WHO WE ARE?

The American Association of Commercial Finance Brokers (AACFB) is the premier trade association empowering independent commercial finance professionals and their funding source partners.

WHAT WE DO?

The AACFB represents the expanding interests of its growing membership by providing best practice education and funding partner networks while promoting a culture of ethics. Our passion is to help commercial financing and leasing professionals achieve success by improving levels of performance.
