BriteCap is a data-driven FinTech company dedicated to improving the financial health of America's small businesses. As an industry leader in direct lending, we strive to build long term, value-added relationships with small business owners that oftentimes are underserved by traditional banks.

A nationwide supplier of financing to small businesses, BriteCap uses technology and nontraditional credit algorithms to finance 98% of U.S. businesses that banks consider too small and too risky for a business loan. Determined to help small business grow, BriteCap forever changed the small business lending landscape by inventing a viable alternative to traditional lending institutions—one that would provide simple, honest, attainable financing. This new financing model was based on a business' credit card sales, rather than its assets, and is now widely known as a merchant loan and merchant cash advance. Today, we're proud to say that BriteCap has given thousands of small businesses across the country the freedom to grow.

Quality Equipment Finance is a wholly independent, small-ticket equipment finance company. We have no outside investors and retain our paper on our balance sheet. These differentiators allow us to make common-sense decisions and look at transactions utilizing whole-story underwriting in ways other lenders cannot. We are proud to have an experienced team that exemplifies our core values of being humbly confident, passionately driven, uncompromising integrity and having the sincere desire to help others. As a broker's most dependable funding partner, we make it easy to finance business equipment transactions ranging from $30,000 to $3,000,000, across a broad spectrum of industries. Our people-centered approach, streamlined tech, and straightforward underwriting create easy wins for brokers and their borrowers.

At SLIM Capital, we help businesses access the financing they need to purchase equipment, unlock working capital, and grow. As a nationwide direct finance company, we offer customized equipment financing and leasing solutions for a wide range of credit profiles—from established businesses with strong credit to borrowers with challenged credit and collateral-supported opportunities.

Our programs include application-only equipment financing up to $500,000, challenged-credit equipment financing up to $150,000, and larger transactions with full financial review. We serve industries including construction, manufacturing, material handling, industrial, vocational transportation, packaging, restaurants, and cannabis, with additional solutions for software financing, sale-leasebacks, asset-based lending, and unsecured working capital.

We believe smart financing should be simple. That's why we combine cutting-edge technology with a hands-on, relationship-driven approach. Our AI-powered processes streamline deal onboarding, credit adjudication, and funding, while our team looks beyond the application to understand each transaction and identify the right financing solution.

At SouthStar Capital, we understand that every business has its unique story and challenges. That's why we go beyond traditional lending by listening to your needs and creating customized financing solutions that empower your business to thrive.

Asset-Based Credit Decisions: Our funding is based on your company's assets and the creditworthiness of your customers, not your past financial performance.

No Time Constraints: Whether you've been in business for a year or a decade, the time in operation does not impact our decision.

Fast, In-House Underwriting: We handle underwriting internally and can typically provide funding within 2-5 days.

Flexible, Custom Solutions: As a private company, we offer diverse products tailored to your business' needs.

Overcome Challenges: We work with businesses facing tax liens, balance sheet issues, and DIP financing, offering the flexibility needed for growth.

We are committed to providing the financial tools and support your business needs to grow confidently. Let us be your trusted partner in success.

With roots extending back to the 1980's, we are a leading provider of customized equipment leasing solutions for large and small businesses across all industries, vendors, and lease brokers. Our experienced management team understands you have many equipment financing options available to you, so we made our process from the ground up to be simple, streamlined, and affordable.

Unlike traditional bankers who are only willing to consider pristine loans with large down payments, we use a cash-flow and equipment-centric model that qualifies our clients where others can't or won't. We know there is not a "one size fits all" approach to business equipment financing. We take the time to understand your business and why your equipment financing request makes sense. Our loan committee, documentation teams, and accounting department are all located on-site to provide unrivaled attention to your transaction and will quickly guide you through the process to get you the funds you need with the balance sheet treatment you want. Our goal is to earn your business again and again.

Universal Finance Corp. established itself as a premier lender to the construction industry in the early 1980's and, over the last four decades, the company has expanded its reach to serve clients in a wide range of industries including transportation, trucking, and landscape construction. Located just outside of Boston, MA, Universal Finance provides borrowers with the financing they need to secure jobs, purchase equipment, and obtain working capital.

The company's extensive experience in asset-based lending gives Universal Finance a unique edge when it comes to relating to its customers and understanding each client's goals. The foundation of its business is built on client relationships, convenient financing, and the ability to provide loans expeditiously.

Unlike most commercial lending institutions, Universal Finance is a direct lender and, on a case-by-case basis, all decisions in the loan application process are made in-house as quickly as possible. Our team looks beyond how a prospective client "looks on paper" to develop a complete understanding of who the customer is and what they have to offer.

This approach has enabled Universal Finance to solidify relationships with thousands of clients who have secured business loans from us for nearly forty years.
