

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
July 18, 2018

Contact: Joangel Concepcion
jconcepcion@nailba.org

Four-Star General (Ret.) & United States Marine Corps Commandant
James T. Conway To Speak at NAILBA 37

(Fairfax, Va.)—The National Association of Independent Life Brokerage Agencies (NAILBA) is proud to announce that General James T. Conway (Ret.), the 34th Commandant of the United States Marine Corps and former Director of Operations for the Joint Chiefs of Staff, will serve as a keynote speaker for NAILBA’s 37th Annual Meeting in Orlando, Florida, October 31st through November 2nd at the Gaylord Palms Hotel.

One of the nation’s most highly-decorated Marine generals, Conway has led troops all over the world and has earned an impressive record of military achievement. His experience includes leadership and responsibility for more than 250,000 personnel and management of a $40 billion annual budget. Conway is expected to address leadership strategies, team building, crisis management and challenges the United States likely will face over the next five to 10 years.

General Conway will speak on Friday, November 2 as part of NAILBA’s first ever Military Appreciation luncheon, honoring all NAILBA members who have served in the United States Armed Forces. All NAILBA 37 attendees are encouraged to attend and be part of this tribute.

Dan LaBert, NAILBA CEO stated “we are honored to have General Conway address our members and guests. Attendees should prepare to be motivated by this superb, multi-talented leader who has proven he can do it all, on the battlefield and in the board room.”

The NAILBA Annual Meeting (NAILBA 37) brings together high-level representatives from brokerage general agencies, life insurance carriers, and insurance industry vendors.

A complete schedule of events including program details, can be found at www.nailba.org/nailba37. Registration for NAILBA’s Annual Meeting is limited to NAILBA members, exhibitors, sponsors, and members of the trade press to encourage meaningful interaction and networking. Registration will open on August 1, 2018.

#NAILBA37

The National Association of Independent Life Brokerage Agencies (NAILBA) is the premiere insurance industry organization promoting financial security and consumer choice through the use of independent brokerage distribution. NAILBA serves as the national association of life, health, and annuity insurance distributors. For more information visit www.nailba.org.