NASBP TRANSFORMS SURETY EDUCATION WITH LAUNCH OF NEW ONLINE PLATFORM

Bethesda, MD—Today, the National Association of Surety Bond Producers (NASBP), a national trade association headquartered in Bethesda, MD, serving a membership of firms employing licensed surety bond producers, announced that it launched a new online platform of NASBP educational resources for anyone seeking to enhance their knowledge of surety bonding and surety-related matters.

The new NASBP SuretyLearn platform, <https://learn.nasbp.org/>, delivers NASBP's robust catalog of learning and professional development resources with an option for learners to customize their learning experience based on their preferences. Dedi Belis, NASBP Professional Development Committee Chair and Surety Bond Specialist at Nielson, Hoover & Company in Delray Beach, FL, said, "This incredible NASBP resource is mobile-ready, fully searchable, and customizable to display the NASBP programs of greatest interest to you." "SuretyLearn will transform your learning experience so much that you will want to increase your and your staff's participation in NASBP educational programs," added Belis.

From the SuretyLearn site, NASBP members and nonmembers can easily access detailed descriptions of and register for NASBP Virtual Seminars, Online courses, Surety Schools, Workshops and networking events, all of which have been developed by NASBP to provide timely and relevant training and information to improve performance.

Robert E. Shaw, NASBP President and President of Skillings Shaw & Associates in Lewiston, ME, said, "NASBP continues to refine and enhance vehicles to deliver unparalleled surety education and professional development." "Our investment in the new SuretyLearn online platform facilitates the ease of anyone—surety bond producers, surety underwriters, contractors, owners, lenders, officials, and others—to learn critical and timely information about surety subjects," Shaw added.
