

Rennette Apodaca

Rennette Apodaca has a Bachelor of Accountancy and Masters in Public Administration from New Mexico State University. She has her Certified Public Procurement Officer designation, Second Vice President for National Association of Educational Procurement - Rocky Mountain District and over twelve years experience in public procurement. She is currently Director of Purchasing, Risk Management and Materials Management at New Mexico State University and teaches public procurement related classes for NM Edge. Hobbies include watching sports, running, biking and hiking.