

Matt Walker

Matt Walker leads Periscope's NIGP Commodity Code and NIGP Consulting-related businesses, ensuring that the company continues to serve in its role as the custodian and administrator of these two important NIGP programs. In this role, he guides the Code-related strategy, and is responsible for serving all Code subscribers and Consulting clients in their Procurement Transformation efforts.

Walker has over 20 years of experience in management, software, and supply chain businesses, with a particular focus on service delivery for state and local government.

Prior to joining Periscope, Walker held executive management positions at TAKE Solutions/ClearOrbit, ResearchPoint, and Hart InterCivic. His roles in these organizations generally consisted of P&L ownership, with a primary focus on division leadership, product management, service delivery, and business development. Walker spent the first years of his career in process improvement and technology implementation with Deloitte Consulting.

Walker earned his Masters of Business Administration from the Kellogg School of Management (Northwestern University) and his Bachelor of Arts in Economics from Stanford University.
