

NICKY DARE, MBA

---

Nicky Dare is a seasoned, multi-disciplinary professional with extensive experience in business development and executive strategic planning. Her success as a consultant and corporate coach has led her all around the world, where she's transformed individuals and businesses alike. Nicky is the founder of three different organizations, including Global Meta Management Consultants, Dare Education, and iDare Inc, with the latter two focusing on personal development in the form of safety preparedness education. Most recently, Nicky presented at La Sierra University's Criminal Justice Program, where she spoke on disaster preparedness and mitigation and hosted a presentation and demonstration for a course of active shooting preparedness. Nicky is proud to be a multilingual women's advocate, supporting her community on the committee of various charities and networking organizations, in addition to holding several other personal and professional designations, such as published author, certified firearms instructor, and DOJ FSC instructor.