

Lisa Primo

Lisa Primo joined NIGP: The Institute for Public Procurement in December 2013. She spent the first year immersed in content, updating and editing course materials and textbooks. One year later, she was promoted to the position of Global Practices Developer. Lisa initiated a collaborative process for developing and vetting the practice documents, and identified and brought together teams of practitioners and academics with expertise and passion for specific topic areas. Lisa's professional experience and creative approach have taken her to both private firms and public organizations. Prior to joining NIGP, Lisa managed the University Lecture Series at Carnegie Mellon University, where she earned her Master of Public Management. She received her undergraduate degree from Indiana University in cello performance and professional coach certification from Duquesne University's International Coach Federation (ICF)-accredited School of Leadership and Professional Advancement.
