

Carrie Rawn

Carrie Rawn is the Director, Programs and Events, for NIGP: The Institute for Public Procurement. She has been involved in the events and meetings profession for over 20 years, beginning her career as a convention services manager. Carrie joined NIGP in 2001 as the Meetings Coordinator, assisting with registration, housing, and logistical planning for the organization's annual Forum and various board and committee meetings. Carrie has earned several designations, including her Certified Meeting Professional (2004) and Certified in Exhibits Management (2017) certifications. In addition, she was the 2007 recipient of NIGP's Anne Deatherage Meritorious Award. Carrie earned her bachelor's degree in business management and marketing from Frostburg State University in Maryland.