

Tim Hay

Tim Hay has been a Cooperative Development Director for NASPO ValuePoint for over five years. He is currently the Lead and oversees all the cooperative development activities. Previously, Tim had been with the State of Oregon for 14 years as a State Procurement Analyst. He managed the State's travel contracts for 10 years and was a very active member of the Society of Government Travel Professionals and chaired the State Travel Managers Alliance. Tim holds a Certified Professional Public Buyer Certification and two college degrees. Tim was also the Chair of the Salem Airport Advisory Commission for 12 years and was awarded the Willard C Marshall-Special Citizen Award for his volunteer services. In 2011, Tim was awarded the Duncan Farrell-2010 Person of the year award from the Society of Government Travel Professionals and was also awarded the 2010 Buyer of the Year Award from the Oregon Public Purchasing Association. Tim was a top three finalist for 2010, 2011, and 2012 NIGP Buyer of the Year. He was named a Best Practitioner in 2013 by Business Travel News and also one of the 25 most Influential Executives in the Business Travel Industry by Business Travel News in 2013.