

KENNETH T. SULLIVAN, PHD, MBA

Dr. Kenneth Sullivan is a Professor in the School of Sustainable Engineering and the Built Environment at Arizona State University. He specializes in organizational transformation, procurement and solicitations, best value contracting, expertise-driven project delivery, performance measurement, risk management, and accountability systems. His processes and tools have been implemented by over 140 organizations on projects valued at over $10 Billion. He has led outsourcing and delivery efforts in networking systems, COTS and custom software, financial management, media rights, travel management, communication systems, dining, health insurance, document management, facility systems, portfolio and project management, furniture, and all types of design and construction. Prof. Sullivan possesses a Bachelor of Science and a Master of Science degree in Civil and Environmental Engineering, an MBA in Real Estate and Urban Economics, and a PhD in Civil and Environmental Engineering, all from the University of Wisconsin – Madison. He has authored over 200 peer reviewed publications, co-authored the book Managing the Profitable Construction Business and won three best paper awards. He has also created a Masters Degree program in Facility Asset and Project Management, new courses in procurement and project delivery, and was the Graduate Program Chair for his department for 7 years. Dr. Sullivan has won the 2008, 2009, 2012, and 2015 Teaching Award for the Ira A. Fulton School of Engineering at ASU, the 2013 IFMA Educator of the Year Award, and was awarded 2014-2016 & 2018-2020 Fulton Exemplar status.