Congress and the Economic Development Administration (EDA) can expand equitable access to EDA resources by leveraging the capacity-building and technical expertise of intermediary nonprofit partners with deep connections to small businesses and the organizations that serve them. The Revitalizing Small and Local Businesses Act (S. 3340/H.R.7451) addresses a long-standing gap in federal support for place-based entities that provide on-the-ground economic assistance to our nation’s commercial corridors. If passed, the legislation would complement EDA’s existing strategies by furthering equitable access to EDA resources through streamlined processes that strengthen the capacity, impact, and reach of place-based Business District Organizations (BDOs).

Small businesses in low-and moderate-income communities, as well as those owned by people of color, are in need of place-based supportive services tailored to their unique needs. The pandemic hit these businesses particularly hard and exacerbated long standing patterns of disinvestment within commercial corridors, stifling efforts to revitalize these once vibrant economic hubs and public spaces in rural and urban communities alike. Main Street programs and BDOs have played an outsized role in supporting the development of businesses districts for decades, bolstering small business resiliency to economic crises by supporting inclusive economic growth and local economic development ecosystems. Yet, there currently are no federal programs dedicated to providing BDO funding and capacity building support to foster the revitalization of business districts and main streets.

The REVITALIZING SMALL AND LOCAL BUSINESSES ACT addresses this outstanding need through the creation of an annual $50 million competitive grant program to integrate historically underinvested rural and urban communities in forthcoming EDA reauthorizing legislation. Introduced in the Senate by Senators Padilla (D-CA) and Wicker (R-MS), and in the House by Representatives Carter (LA-02) and Guest (MS-03), the bi-partisan legislation builds on existing EDA strategies by using trusted intermediaries, with deep roots to locally based community and economic development partners, to quickly and efficiently deploy funding to support the vital work of local Main Street programs, BDOs, and similar place-based efforts to build small businesses eco-systems in communities throughout the country.
