RenalEdge GPO Welcomes National Dialysis Accreditation Commission (NDAC) as a New Vendor Partner

RHA Members Gain Access to Leading Dialysis Accreditation Expertise

RenalEdge GPO is pleased to announce a new vendor partnership with the National Dialysis Accreditation Commission (NDAC), the leading dialysis Accreditation Organization (AO) in the United States. Through this partnership, members of the Renal Healthcare Association (RHA) gain access to accreditation services from the organization that conducts more than 90% of all dialysis accreditation surveys nationwide.

“We are pleased to partner with RenalEdge GPO to support RHA members with an efficient, education-focused pathway to Medicare certification,” said Curt Anliker, CEO of NDAC. “Our mission has always been to help all dialysis providers achieve Medicare certification quickly, which minimizes the operational and financial burden of opening a new dialysis clinic or home program. Existing providers that choose to migrate from State oversight to NDAC accreditation and its regulatory oversight benefit greatly from NDAC’s collaborative and educational survey experience.”

NDAC provides accreditation services across all 50 states and U.S. territories and is recognized for offering one of the fastest routes to Medicare certification, with survey response times often measured in days. In addition to initial certification, NDAC is authorized to conduct Medicare-related regulatory surveys for modality additions, relocations, and station expansions.

Additional information about this partnership, including enrollment details, will be shared on the RenalEdge website. To learn more, visit www.RenalEdge.com.
