NSW Regional Cancer Research Network

The NSW Regional Cancer Research Network (the Network) is funded by the Cancer Institute NSW through a Translational Cancer Research Capacity Building Grant and has been established through NSW Regional Health Partners (NSWRHP) to build capacity in translational cancer research across the geographical area covered by the Central Coast, Hunter New England, Mid-North Coast and Northern NSW Local Health Districts (LHDs).

The Network's key focus is to support and develop regionally based cancer research and to enable clinicians, researchers and healthcare workers in regional areas to lead projects that improve health outcomes and cancer care across their communities. With support from our Project Management Team, members can access specialist research expertise and assistance.

The Network aims to:

- Lead research engagement, collaboration, and knowledge exchange between researchers, health and medical professionals, people affected by cancer and the cancer services they access.
- Leverage and strengthen existing research capacity and opportunities for research engagement in regional and rural NSW.
- Contribute to scientific and clinical evidence informed by regional and rural perspectives.
- Translate locally informed research to improve cancer care and clinical practice.
- Provide regional leadership in State and National Cancer Research and Health Policy.

Purpose of the Regional Open Access Publication Fee Scheme

To enable Network members to publish Open Access, peer-reviewed cancer research by funding Article Processing Charges. The scheme supports the publication and dissemination of work that builds regional research capacity, translates locally informed evidence into practice, and improves outcomes for people in regional, rural and remote NSW. Open Access ensures results are freely available to clinicians, consumers and policymakers and increases reach and impact across regional NSW and beyond.

Eligibility

Applicants must be:

- NSW Regional Cancer Research Network member: click here to join.
- First author (including co-first where the journal indicates equal contribution) or corresponding author (including co-corresponding as designated by the journal). Last or senior authors are eligible only if they are the designated corresponding author.

- Demonstrate alignment with the Network's goals (see above), including a focus on regional, rural or remote communities where applicable. Applications are welcome for:
 - Articles arising from NSWRCRN-funded projects, or
 - Articles that clearly align with the Network's aims.
- Provide evidence the article has been accepted in a peer-reviewed journal and will be published Open Access.
- Provide a publisher invoice dated between 1 October 2025 and 31 May 2026.
- Acknowledge NSWRCRN support in the publication.
- For University of Newcastle affiliated authors, confirm that the journal is not covered by a Library Read and Publish agreement or that the agreement cap has been reached.

Scheme Objectives

- Remove cost barriers to Open Access publication of peer-reviewed cancer research by NSWRCRN members.
- Increase the visibility and use of regionally informed evidence
- Promote the translation of locally informed evidence into practice and policy.

Expected Outcomes

- The article is published Open Access.
- NSWRCRN support is appropriately acknowledged.
- DOI and citation shared for reporting.
