SAMPLE CHAIN OF EVENTS WITH REGARD TO A STATUTORY PROVISION AFTER ITS ENACTMENT

The succeeding pages provide an overview of the chain of events that generally occur to a statutory provision after its original enactment until its inclusion in a positive law title of the U.S. Code.

Each page contains a snapshot of an event that occurred to the selected statutory provision (section 206 of the National Aeronautics and Space Act of 1958 (42 U.S.C. 2476), restated as section 20116 of title 51). Below are explanations regarding each page by the handwritten page number on the upper right corner of each page.

1: Section 206 of the National Aeronautics and Space Act of 1958 ("Act") (42 U.S.C. 2476) was enacted. The text of the Act appeared in Volume 72 of the Statutes at Large.

2: Section 206 of the Act was classified as section 2476 of title 42 of the 1958 edition of the U.S. Code.

3: The 1970 edition of the U.S. Code was printed. Since no amendment was made to section 206 of the Act before the printing of the 1970 edition of the U.S. Code, the text of section 2476 of title 42 remained unchanged.

4: Section 206 of the Act was amended in 1971. The amendatory provision appeared in Volume 85 of the Statutes at Large.

5: The amendment in 1971 was executed in Supplement 1 of the 1958 edition of the U.S. Code. Therefore, section 206 of the Act, as it appeared in Supplement 1, contained the amendments made in 1971.

6: Section 206 of the Act was again amended in 2000. The amendatory provision appeared in Volume 114 of the Statutes at Large.

8: Continuation of page 7.

9: The 2006 edition of the U.S. Code was printed. Since no amendment was made between the printing of the 2000 edition of the U.S. Code and the printing of the 2006 edition of the U.S. Code, the text of section 2476 of title 42 remained unchanged.

10: The codification bill for a new title 51 of the U.S. Code submitted to and introduced by the House of Representatives included a restatement of section 206 of the Act as section 20116 of title 51. The codification bill was enacted on December 18, 2010 and became Public Law 111-314.

11: The schedule of repeals in the codification bill showed that section 206 of the Act was among the list of provisions to be repealed upon enactment of the bill. Section 20116 of title 51 would, in effect, replace section 206 of the Act so the repeal of section 206 was necessary.

12: The section-by-section analysis in the explanation of the codification bill contained a table that showed the source law for each restated provision. In the case of section 20116 of title 51, the first column of the table showed “20116” which became the section number of the restated provision in title 51, the second column showed the former U.S. Code section in title 42, and the third column showed the public law source credits (original enactment and amending provisions). The revision note under the table explained the textual changes made in section 20116.

14: Also upon passage of the codification bill, section 2476 of title 42, which was the U.S. Code classification of the former section 206, was shown as repealed in Supplement IV of the 2006 edition of the U.S. Code.
