

Brian Roche

General Counsel

Riddell

Brian Roche is General Counsel of Riddell, Inc. -- the recognized leader in helmet technology and innovation, Riddell is the leading manufacturer of football helmets and shoulder pads, and a top provider of reconditioning services. Brian provides legal and business counsel in complex matters and play an active role in developing and implementing the Company's business objectives and strategies with a special focus on mitigating risks, reducing costs and driving growth. Prior to joining Riddell, Brian was a partner at Seyfarth Shaw in Chicago as well as a prosecutor in Cook County (IL) State Attorney General Office. He holds a JD from Chicago-Kent School of Law and an undergraduate degree from Marquette.