RAY FUENTES, BA

Specialized Professional Competence

Ray Fuentes has a deep background in jury research and in identifying juror attitudes and beliefs. As a consultant, he has interviewed over a thousand jurors who have deliberated to verdicts in cases involving medical malpractice, products liability, patent infringement, securities law violations, and many other areas. He has extensive experience in conducting jury focus groups, summary mock trials and data collection exercises, and he has participated in well over five hundred such sessions encompassing virtually all areas of litigation and all geographic regions of the United States, including experience in the Federal jurisdiction of Puerto Rico. He has assisted clients in jury selection, creation of juror profiles and other aspects of trial strategy. He was educated at the University of Florida where he received a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science and completed two years of graduate study at the Center for Latin American Studies. Prior to working as a consultant, he was a Correctional Administrator and a licensed Private Investigator.
