All Hands on Deck! Sailing Across the Complex World of M&A

Navigating the M&A process can be challenging for risk managers.

- What skills do you need in order to become an integral part of the process?
- How do you make the case to be a participant from Day 1 on the Due Diligence team?
- What advice should you give the C-Suite?
- What insurance products could help you mitigate the risk?

Through discussions with experts from AON and real-life risk management experiences, we will explore how you can put together the skills and the resources to “get your sea legs” and add value by becoming an essential partner in your company’s M&A activity.
