GeoSocial Investigations: Advanced Social Media Research. Simplified.

Ryan Johnson
DigiStream

The session will examine successful real-life cases, fascinating trends in social media investigations, privacy and legal issues, as well as preserving, authenticating and presenting the evidence in court. The dynamic between social media monitoring and surveillance will also be examined through a case study involving 17,000 days of surveillance data. Attendees will come away with an understanding of the best practices and ethics required for a successful investigation, how to refer a file for maximum success, and how to ensure data security and the authentication of evidence.
